Standard 3 – Continuous Learning and Scholarship

Lindenwood faculty are committed to remaining current in their discipline and instructional practice through continuous learning and contributions to their field by participating in scholarly work.

CONTINUOUS LEARNING AND SCHOLRSHIP
Continuous Learning	Remains current in the discipline. Enhances existing courses. Increases understanding of how students learn and fosters innovation. Actively and regularly engages in professional development and continuous improvement that support the college and overall university mission.
Scholarship	Participates in discovery of knowledge through traditional research. Integrates the use of knowledge across disciplines. Disseminates knowledge to external professionals and society. Studies teaching models and practices to achieve optimal learning.