Acknowledgement of Country

The University of Melbourne acknowledges the Traditional Owners of the unceded land on which we work, learn and live: the Wurundjeri Woi Wurrung and Bunurong peoples (Burnley, Fishermans Bend, Parkville, Southbank and Werribee campuses), the Yorta Yorta Nation (Dookie and Shepparton campuses), and the Dja Dja Wurrung people (Creswick campus).

The University also acknowledges and is grateful to the Traditional Owners, Elders and Knowledge Holders of all Indigenous nations and clans who have been instrumental in our reconciliation journey.

We recognise the unique place held by Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples as the original owners and custodians of the lands and waterways across the Australian continent, with histories of continuous connection dating back more than 60,000 years. We also acknowledge their enduring cultural practices of caring for Country.

We pay respect to Elders past, present and future, and acknowledge the importance of Indigenous knowledge in the Academy. As a community of researchers, teachers, professional staff and students we are privileged to work and learn every day with Indigenous colleagues and partners.

Position Summary

Should this position be advertised; to meet Immigration Labour Market Testing it is important to include Minimum qualifications and required work experience (such as relevant research areas, project experience).

The ideal candidate is a junior research fellow with a strong background in the critical ethnography of fire politics, cultural burning, gendered livelihoods, and climate change adaptation in Southeast Asia, particularly the Philippines and Timor-Leste. They should demonstrate a deep understanding of agrarian change and political ecology, cultural sensitivity and respect for local knowledge and practices, and the ability to conduct ethnographic fieldwork in remote rural settings under challenging conditions. The candidate should also have a demonstrated capacity to collaborate and publish within an interdisciplinary team of researchers, while engaging effectively with local communities and practitioners across both countries.

We encourage applicants from under-represented groups, including Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people. To allow us to consider performance relative to opportunity, we also invite applicants to provide a brief statement (up to 1 page) that describes circumstances that may have affected their career development or progression, including career interruptions or delays, periods of part time work, or forms of bias they have experienced.

1. Key Responsibilities

As with all positions, career achievements will be interpreted relative to opportunity, including career disruptions due to caring responsibilities, time in industry, illness etc.

The position description should be read alongside Academic Career Benchmarks and Indicators. A level A academic is acquiring skills and building academic achievements (oriented towards the benchmarks).

6. Strategy 2030: Resilience

As set out in the University of Melbourne's Strategy 2030, our purpose is to benefit society through the transformative impact of our education and research. This can only be achieved by building a resilient institution, empowering our people, and working toward shared ambitions.

Our aspiration for 2030 is to be a world-leading, globally connected Australia university with students at the heart of everything we do. Strategy 2030 provides a sharp focus to advance our shared ambitions and guide us through to 2030.

It elevates three core ambitions:

- Exceptional Education: Educating our outstanding students to thrive in complexity
- Transformational Research: Creating knowledge, fostering innovation and transforming lives
- Our Resilient University: Serving and connecting Country, people and community

The strategy identifies our University's distinctive capabilities including Indigenous scholarship, world-class curriculum, our diverse community and our global research networks and precincts.

Four focus areas for action guide decision-making and ensure the University is equipped for challenges ahead. These are: Empowering people and performance, Improving student experience, Partnering for impact and Leading with a future-focus.

7. Other Information

7.1 ORGANISATION UNIT - SCHOOL OF GEOGRAPHY EARTH AND ATMOSPHERIC SCIENCES (SGEAS)

<https://sgeas.unimelb.edu.au/>

The School of Geography, Earth and Atmospheric Sciences was formally established in 2021, following the merger of the Schools of Geography and Earth Sciences. The new School synergises discipline strengths in geography, atmospheric science and geoscience. The School offers undergraduate and graduate research programs in these core discipline areas, and in the multi-disciplinary fields of Climate Change, Environmental Science and Archaeological Science. The research within the School is built upon extensive expertise in geography, geoscience and atmospheric science, ranging from the social sciences through to the quantitative physical sciences. In addition to internationally recognised discipline expertise, we have strengths in a number of multi-disciplinary areas including climate change; resource futures; space, place and social change; environmental hazards; Indigenous knowledge; and Earth system interactions. With strengths in both the spatial (local to global) and temporal (deep time as well as recent) dimensions of environmental change, the School is committed to achieving a better future for our students, society and the environment. We are committed to advancing reconciliation with Indigenous Australians through involvement with the Indigenous Knowledges Institute which is hosted within the Faculty of Science, research and teaching partnerships with Indigenous communities, and archaeological science. The School contributes strongly to the key areas of Place, Community, Education, Discovery, and Global in the University's Advancing Melbourne Strategy.

7.2 FACULTY OF SCIENCE

www.science.unimelb.edu.au

Science at Melbourne is a global leader across discovery and applied scientific research and education. Science begins with curiosity, and we are dedicated to understanding the universe from the level of sub-atomic particles to the solar system. We aim to be leaders who positively impact the community locally and globally, addressing major societal issues from climate change to disease. Our discoveries help build an understanding of the world around us.

Our strength is our breadth of expertise. The Faculty is home to seven schools: Agriculture, Food & Ecosystem Sciences; BioSciences; Chemistry; Geography, Earth & Atmospheric Sciences; Mathematics & Statistics; Physics; and Melbourne Veterinary School.

The Faculty is also custodian of the Bio21 Molecular Science and Biotechnology Institute, Melbourne Energy Institute, Melbourne Biodiversity Institute, Oceania Institute, Office for Environmental Programs, Australian Mathematical Sciences Institute (AMSI) and the Indigenous Knowledge Institute and home to numerous Centres.

We are committed to the values of curiosity, excellence, impact and integrity. With deep disciplinary knowledge our faculty is uniquely positioned to take a globally leading role in understanding, exploring and shaping our world and humanity, within a truly comprehensive Faculty of Science.

We have more than 150 years of experience in pioneering scientific thinking and analysis, leading to outstanding teaching and learning and offer a curriculum based on highly relevant research. We aim to train students with the knowledge and intellectual flexibility to drive the industries of tomorrow and lead across all levels of society.

We offer a range of undergraduate, honours, graduate and research degrees, enrolling and supervising 12,239 undergraduates, 3,384 Master's students and over 1,000 PhD researchers in 2025.

We are dedicated to delivering transformative educational outcomes, underpinned by research, and an inclusive and inspiring student experience.

Excellence comes in many forms and diversity of thought, perspective and disciplines is essential to deliver globally leading science. At the core of our success is our focus on an inclusive environment for all in our community. Our Faculty's focus on equity, inclusion and belonging is grounded in our endeavour to ensure we are best placed to advance research, teaching and serve diverse national and global communities.

As a Science community we sit across five of the University's campuses – Parkville, Dookie, Burnley, Creswick and Werribee. This reach provides us with a unique perspective that is beneficial to our teaching and research. It also means we can offer our students a greater variety of learning experiences and internships to engage with industry partners to solve real-world issues.

7.3 THE UNIVERSITY OF MELBOURNE

Established in 1853, the University of Melbourne is a leading international university with a tradition of excellence in teaching and research. The main campus in Parkville is recognised as the hub of Australia's premier knowledge precinct comprising eight hospitals, many leading research institutes and a wide-range of knowledge-based industries. With outstanding performance in international rankings, the University is at the forefront of higher education in the Asia-Pacific region and the world.

The University of Melbourne employs people of outstanding calibre and offers a unique environment where staff are valued and rewarded.
