

Computational Efficiency of Lambert Algorithms

Jaemyung AHN<sup>1</sup>, Sang-II LEE<sup>1</sup> and Jun BANG<sup>1</sup>

1) Department of Aerospace Engineering, KAIST, Daejeon 305-701, KOREA

Corresponding Author: Jaemyung AHN, Jaemyung.ahn@kaist.ac.kr

ABSTRACT

This talk discusses the performance of the algorithms to solve the Lambert's problem, which is one of the most famous classics in astrodynamics. Existing algorithms used in different communities and their characteristics are introduced. A methodology to generate a proper problem instances to compare different algorithms is proposed. Performance comparison results for several important algorithms are presented.